From Howitt's Journal.
THE LOVER.

FROM THE GERMAN OF HEINRICH VOLZ.

The maiden with brown eyes and hair
Came out of the dewy meadows;
The nightingales were singing clear,
Among the evening shadows.
I saw and heard her stepping free;
She passed like sunshine o'er the lea;
I saw she was the girl for me!

Her skirts were fished from the dew;
Her bodice fitted tightly;

Her plumed hair, her apron blue.
The slight breeze waited lightly.

The stockings white as white could be.

Said I that maiden fair to see?

Came all the world through;
As well as I could, said I, "Sweet maid,
God shew them from all sorrow!"

She looked with eyes so bright and free;

Said I, she is the girl for me;

She shall my heart's beloved be!

How then seemed to answer "Yes,"

My heart with love was rushing;

And I contrived my lips to press.

Upon her warm cheek, blushing—

That blushing cheek, fresh to see!

Said I, this maiden, fair and free,

She is the very girl for me!

I helped her over hedge and stile,

With frothy milk-pail laden;

And sang to scare the goblins vile.

That might affright the maiden;

For now 't was dark by bush and tree;

And said I, "Maiden dear to me,"

Will thine my heart's beloved be?"

"Wherefore so late?" her mother cried.

In wrath her daughter viewing.

"Soft, gentle mother! I weeped."

"They daugh'ter I've been weeping!

Give thy consent—then blessed are we!

Sweet mother, give consent for she

Is willing my beloved to be!" MARY HOWITT.

Death in the Caffernier Regiment.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

DEAR SIR: You will confer a distinguished favor on the friends and relatives of the deceased and on the officers whose names are attached, by publishing the within at your earliest convenience. On behalf of the Officers, I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

Your obt. servt., EDW. GILBERT.

1st Lieut. 7th Regt. N. Y. State Volunteers.

United States Transport Loo Choo, Oct. 24, 1846.

Accidentally lost overboard in a gale of wind off Cape Horn, on the 26th December, 1846, from the United States Transport Loo Choo, Private DANIEL STRAIN, of the 7th Regiment N. Y. State Volunteers, in the service of the United States.

Alas! died, at the same time and place, of disease of the heart, the immediate fatal effects of which was induced by excitement and over-exertion in rescuing Private Green from drowning, 1st Lieut. WILLIAM H. TREMELLS, of the same Regiment.

In connection with the death of Lieut. Tremells, we publish the following proceedings:

At a meeting of the Officers of the Detachment of the 7th Regiment N. Y. State Volunteers, in the service of the United States, and the friends of the late Lieut. TRENELLS, convened on board the Transport Ship Loo Choo, on the 25th December, 1846, it was Resolved, That with heartfelt sorrow we are compelled to announce the sudden death of Lieut. WILLIAM H. TREMELLS, in the 26th inst., that we sincerely mourn for a Soldier who died in the cause of his country, and that he departed with his honor firmly fixed and anchored in the Christian faith and virtue.

Resolved, That we will wear the usual badge of mourning for our deceased brother officer for the period of thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the widow and relatives of Lieut. Tremells, and that they be published in the Washington Union, and the papers of the City of New-York.

THE REFORMED PRACTICE OF MEDICINE, based upon the principles of the Chinese-Herbal system practiced by the celebrated Dr. DICKSON of London. By G. S. Ross, M. D., New-York: W. H. Graham, Tribune Buildings. 12mo; pp. 180.

This book is made up mainly of extracts from the lectures of Dr. Dickson which have been republished entire by Dr. Turner of this City. We believe, however, that the substance of the system is here presented. It is certainly worthy of investigation.

JOURNAL OF TRAVELS OVER THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS TO THE MOUTH OF THE COLUMBIA RIVER, made during the years 1845 and 1846. By JON PALMER, Cincinnati. 1847. 12mo; pp. 180.

This is the title of the work for sale by W. H. Graham. It gives the experience and observations of men of shrewd common sense, and will be found of service to all persons who are thinking of emigrating to the country described; while it is by no means without interest for the general reader.

FIRST LESSONS IN BOTANY, or the Child's Book of Flowers: Illustrated with Engravings: For Families and Schools: By THOMAS THINKER, is a beautifully printed little volume of 108 pp. adapted to the capacities of children and presenting the elementary truths of Botany in an attractive form. The writer adopts the modified system of Linnaeus as better for the child, because simpler than the other. Theodore Thinker is understood to be the new de visse of Prof. FRANCIS C. Woodworth, Editor of the Youth's Cabinet. Published by D. Austin Woodworth, 135 Nassau-st.

NURSERY TALES—Several very meritorious nursery works have been laid on the table by Zieber & Co. of Philadelphia. They are the first issues of what is intended to be a very comprehensive series. The illustrations, with the text, are entirely original, the former by no less artists than Darley & Croome, and the latter by a very able writer, assuming the new place of "Grandfather Lovelock." Both are excellent and the text, while it delights the fancy, is made the means of inculcating a moral. The Pictorial Primer, Aladdin-Henry Brown, Fred. Farnsworth, Robt. Hood and Moore's Goose, are all that are yet issued. They may be had in this city.

THE Gardener and Complete Florist, is the title of a small volume, containing an account of every vegetable production cultivated for the table, with directions for planting and raising flowers. Price 25 cts. Published by W. H. Graham, Tribune Buildings.

New Music—Fifth, Hall & Pond have in publication a new and very beautiful nocturne by W. V. WALLACE. The theme is from the beautiful melody, "Scenes that are bright," the germ of his new Opera, "Maritana." It is dedicated to Edward L. Walker, Esq., and can be played with the use of "Walker's Harmonic Pedal." They have also published the beautiful Canavalia, sung by Berlie, in Linda di Chamounix. "O laud di quest anima." (Our faith then plucking) and Henri Herz's Grand Fantasy upon "Mafis de Lucia." This is one of the most popular compositions played by him while in this City.

ACCIDENT AT AURORA—A correspondent at Aurora gives the particulars of a most painful and fatal accident at that place on Thursday. Mr. C. Cutler left his home in the morning and went to the factory of Mr. Meggs, for the purpose of sending a package to his wife, who had just given birth to a son, and was ill. The accident which he suffered was caused between the bolt and pully. All efforts to disengage it were unavailing. He was carried round with the shaft making 150 revolutions in a minute, until his arm was torn from the body at the shoulder, and both legs and arms were broken. Mr. Cutler lingered 9 or 10 hours the same evening, when death relieved him from his horrible sufferings.
